MURDER MAN WHILE POLICE STUDY CRIME

Raid Made On Boxing Show,
While Burglaries Are In Progress.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—While the crime problem of Chicago was still being solved on paper today and by investigating committees, one shooting, a daring burglary and more than 20 robberies sent detective squads scurrying to all parts of the city today.

Police Commissioner William Russell, in a desperate attempt to stave off the crime wave, resolved to arrest every known hoodlum, gunman and racketeer on sight, hurl them in jail and keep them there until they are released on writs of habeas corpus.

RAID BOXING SHOW

Squads swooped down on a boxing show here last night and arrested 7 men, five of whom were released. Hoodlums today with police records were being rounded up in every section of Chicago and carried to the bureau of identification.

"I'll arrest them so often they will be glad to leave Chicago," said Russell grimly. "And when they leave the court with a discharge, until arrest them as they walk out the door."

Dissatisfied with the results obtained by police in their war upon criminals, the Chicago association of commerce held a meeting which was attended by Commissioner of Police Russell and State's Attorney John A. Swanson at which it was decided to appoint a "citizens of courage and action" committee to study the crime problem of the city.

While this body was being selected, Pasquale Calabrese fell to the floor of his home today, writhing with perhaps mortal bullet wounds, said to have been inflicted by one of two women with whom he quarreled. When police arrived the women had fled and Calabrese was unconscious and unable to give a motive for the attack.

BURGLARS ACTIVE

Burglars simultaneously raided the home of Erwin Wagner, millionaire head of a sign company, bound and gagged Wagner's two children, Frank, 18, and Louise, 16, and escaped with jewelry and money, the value of which was unknown.

The "stickup" victim list increased steadily during the night and today. Bandits warred upon drug stores, groceries, shoe stores and taxicab drivers.

The "strip" bandits, a man and a woman, were again busy, robbing two taxicab drivers and forcing them to disrobe so as to foil pursuit.

ANNUAL FARM MEETING ENDS

Farmers' Week At Ohio State
Best In 18 Years of Annual Meetings.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 8.—More than 7,000 Ohio farmers were returning to their homes in all parts of the state today, following the 18th annual celebration of "Farmers' week" which was held at Ohio State university.

Attendance of farmers and visitors to the annual meet, which ended Friday night, set a new record, 7,105. Every county in the state was represented, and farmers and agricultural experts from surrounding states took part in the extensive program.

This year's meeting was pronounced by officials of the college of agriculture at Ohio State university, who sponsored the program, as the best since the inauguration of "Farmers' Week" in 1912.

COL. ENDERLIN IS CRITICALLY ILL

Col. Richard Enderlin, 87, father of R. P. Enderlin, local coal dealer, is critically ill at his home in Chillicothe.

Mr. Enderlin is one of Chillicothe's highest respected citizens and his illness is of great concern to his friends.

Lindbergh Pilots Broken Glider to Earth

The perilous pathways of the air hold no terrors, apparently, for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who can be seen in the cockpit of his glider over Sandberg, Cal. (upper photo), just before the flimsy ship lost an aileron. He calmly floated down to earth, commenced repairs and said he would go back into the air again.

HUGHES MAY NOT ACT ON SEVERAL BIG QUESTIONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Charles Evans Hughes after he becomes chief justice of the United States will refrain from acting on some of the most important constitutional questions before the supreme court if he follows the precedent of other justices. It was declared today by Senator George W. Norris (R) of Nebraska, chairman of the Senate judiciary committee.

Norris pointed out that it has become the practice of supreme court justices to "take no part in the consideration" of cases in which they acted as attorneys while practicing before the bar or in similar cases. He indicated, however, that his committee will not question Hughes about his ideas on this custom.

If Hughes does disqualify himself on such matters, he will bar himself from anything on anti-trust cases, radio cases involving the right of broadcasting stations to the air, in the famous New York five-cent case, in railroad valuation suits, in the meat packers case and in the New York power case. In all these matters, Hughes has acted as an attorney during his private practice since leaving the state department.

In an anti-trust case against the American Malleable Cast Iron association, Hughes argued the government cannot compel business concerns to compete. In defending the radio station, WGY, Hughes declared that the granting of a license to a broadcasting company gave it a property right in the air.

In a railroad valuation case, he argued that the interstate commerce commission's findings were invalid for rate making purposes. In the New York power case, he was retained to defend the right of New York state to regulate its power sites without interference from the federal government. All these issues may come before the supreme court while Hughes is chief justice.

GERMANS MAY RATION BOOZE

First Step Toward Liquor
Drinking Up Before Reichstag Committee.

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—The first definite step toward liquor-drinking control in Germany was taken by the economics committee of the Reichstag today.

The committee voted in favor of "rationing" saloons on a basis of one to each 400 inhabitants. Should the Reichstag sustain the decision of the economic committee, it would mean the elimination of some 70,000 saloons throughout Germany, as the present proportion is far in excess of one to 400.

Opponents of the proposed restriction on the number of saloons law bitterly resent any charging it foreshadows the advent of prohibition in this country.

In support of their opposition they have submitted voluminous testimony designed to show prohibition in the United States a failure. One of the witnesses before the committee, Dr. P. director of the federal health bureau, declared that prohibition had failed to lessen the number of alcohol deaths in the United States.

"Liquor in that country drunk in much rarer intervals but in about equal quantities," Dr. Frey said, "the effect being worse because of the poor quality of the alcohol consumed."

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. McChesney will spend the week-end at Indianapolis.

ALEXANDER IS SPEAKER

S. Bloomfield Minister To Address

Weekly Meeting.

Rev. William Alexander, of S. Bloomfield, will be the speaker at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Boggs Hotel Monday evening.

Alexander is recognized throughout this section of the state as a very fluent speaker and his services are in demand within a large radius. He addressed the local Chamber of Commerce several weeks ago as a member of the Ashville delegation which visited the local organization, and delighted his audience with his inimitable wit.

A large attendance is expected at the meeting.

80-Year Old Woman—
Funeral Sunday.

Mrs. C. B. Greene, aged 80, died at her home in Roxabelle, Ohio, 12 miles from Williamsport at 3:51 a. m. Friday. She was survived by four sons, William, Edward and Allison of Frankfort, and Marion of Indiana. The funeral will be held at the Methodist Episcopal church at Roxville at 9:30 a. m. Sunday with Rev. Weaver officiating. Burial is in charge of Fisher and Metzger of Williamsport.

PRESIDENT HOOVER DEPARTS FOR SOUTH FOR SHORT REST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—President Hoover sets out today to reward himself with a brief respite from the cares of office after eleven months of unbroken labor.

Tonight, he and Mrs. Hoover and a very small party of intimate friends entran for the southern tip of Florida, there to put in a week at deep-sea fishing.

Long Key, a fishing camp located midway between Miami and Key West will be their base, but they will remain for the most part several miles off shore enjoying the first complete privacy they have had since inauguration.

ARRIVE MONDAY

The party is due to arrive at Long Key early Monday, and will immediately board the houseboat, Saunterer, chartered by the president for the occasion from his friend, Jeremiah Milbank. This is the same boat the Hoovers used last winter when they spent a month in Florida just prior to March 4. Two other smaller houseboats will be waiting for the secret service, and this tiny fleet will promptly sail out to isolation and the fishing grounds.

Accompanying the president will be his fishing companions of many seasons—associate Justice Harlan Fiske Stone, of the supreme court; Dr. Vernon B. Kellogg, oldtime St. Street neighbor; and Larry Richey, of the White House Secretariat. Completing the immediate party will be Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, the presidential physician, and tagging along as "official observers"—from the shore—will be nine newspapermen and four photographers.

Sailfish, Kingfish and all the other husky denizens of the gulf stream will be the objective of the little group. All of them are expert fishermen.

No stops are to be made either coming or going. Mr. Hoover has determined to make this a complete holiday and has put his foot down firmly on all invitations to visit, even for a few hours, any of the immediate points.

There is no question but what the executive is in need of the short vacation. The high-pressure manner in which he has applied himself to his duties during the last eleven months has registered its strain on his face. He is in good physical condition, thanks to the daily medicine ball work-out, but those around him agree his nerves need a little relaxation.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

The vice-president was removed to a hospital in Belo Horizonte, capital of Minas Geraes. It was stated his wounds were not critical and that he would recover although it would not be stated definitely how soon he could essay the journey back to this city, more than 400 miles away.

Officials here refused to state definitely today whether or not martial law had been or would be declared in the state of Minas Geraes which is extremely important in Brazil from a political standpoint.

Dr. Meilo Vianna who is leader of the conservative party in Minas Geraes, had gone there to make round of political speeches. As he began a speech in Montes laroas one of the strongholds of the opposition party, someone fired at him from a nearby house not followed. It was reported a woman was among those wounded.

HOUSE CERTAIN TO PASS BILL FOR TRANSFER

Change of Liquor Enforcement
From Treasury To Justice
Seem Sure.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The first proposal of the Wiekersham law enforcement commission for reorganization of federal prohibition enforcement machinery was slated for overwhelming approval in the house today with passage of the Williamson bill transferring the prohibition bureau from the treasury to the justice department.

Meanwhile the second plan of the crime commission, creating commissioners courts to deal with petty violations, was being revised by house dyes. The third major proposal, creating a unified border control, was still being considered by the treasury.

LEADERS CONFIDENT

Administration leaders were confident the transfer bill would be approved by Senate as well as by house but other measures faced an uncertain future in the present session.

Despite dissension in the house over the extent to which the treasury should be stripped of power over industrial alcohol, leaders predicted passage of the bill as endorsed by the administration.

Under its terms all dry agents would be placed under the Attorney-General, who also would be given joint authority to write the treasury's industrial alcohol regulations, and power to veto a permit because of violations.

Rep. Christopherson (R) of South Dakota, chairman of the Judiciary sub-committee handling the crime commission's "Juriless Trial" bill, announced that other members of the committee will back him in proposed amendments to the Jones "Five and Ten Laws" passed last year by congress. Death Roscoe Pound of the law enforcement commission approved the move.

The new bill, Christopherson said, will provide a maximum fine of $500 and six months imprisonment for "casual or petty" violations which includes possession, and those who do not habitually sell liquor.

He asserted the Jones law, which provided a maximum fine of $10,000 and five years imprisonment for any prohibition violation, was enacted in Congress without consideration.

Congressional vets were preparing for the drive to be inaugurated before the House judiciary committee on Feb. 12 for modification or repeal of the Volstead act, a national referendum on prohibition and legalizing 2.75 per cent beer.

They were encouraged by the demonstration given in the House for Rep. James M. Beck (R) of Pennsylvania, former solicitor-general, who emerged as a wet leader.

Wets were considering a concerted movement to force a statement from the law enforcement commission on the possibility of complete, effective prohibition enforcement.

Father Returning From Work
In Lumber Camp Finds
Remains of Family.

CADILLAC, Mich., Feb. 8.—The charred bodies of a mother and early today in the fire swept her two small children were found in ruins of their home in Neauwauka near here. Neighbors who sighted the blaze were forced to stand by helpless while the mother and her two children, a boy aged two and a girl, three months old, were burned to death. The intense heat caused by the tinder like structure of the building prevented rescuers from entering the home.

The father Clarence Cummings was at work in a lumber camp at the time of the fire. Returning home he found his home in ashes and the bodies of his wife and children entangled about one another. It is believed the fire started in the kitchen.

January, 1929, Manager
Briggs Reports.

The Pickaway-co Livestock Co-operative Association through its manager, Harry J. Briggs, handled during the past week 12 floors of livestock. The shipments were comprised chiefly of hogs and finished cattle. The net price on well finished hogs of 180 to 225 pound averages was from $10.40 shipping points. The price on well finished cattle is reflecting the profit, while poorly finished cattle moves slowly and at unsatisfactory margins. Some prices received by the farmers net on different classes of cattle, are cows, $5.50 to $8.50, on steers, $10.50 to $13.90; veal calves, $12.50 to $16.50. Prices on sows net $7.75 to $8.25.

The past month's business developed by Pickaway Livestock farmers through their cooperative agency represents a substantial increase over business transacted over the same month last year, 68 floors of livestock being handled in January as compared with 52 floors one year ago.

There is no question but what the executive is in need of the short vacation. The high-pressure manner in which he has applied himself to his duties during the last eleven months has registered its strain on his face. He is in good physical condition, thanks to the daily medicine ball work-out, but those around him agree his nerves need a little relaxation.

FEEL FEAR AS OFFICIAL SHOT

Elections Less Than Month Away When Attempt At Murder Tried.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 8.—With the presidential elections less than a month away, an undercurrent of uneasiness was felt in Brazilian political circles today following the shooting of Vice-president Fernando Mello Vianna while making a political speech at Montes Claros, Minas Geraes.

Three bullets from the gun of a supposed political opponent entered the neck and head of Dr. Mello Vianna. Five other persons, including the vice-president's private secretary, were killed and 14 were wounded in the melee that followed, according to dispatches received here today.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

The vice-president was removed to a hospital in Bello Horizonte, capital of Minas Geraes. It was stated his wounds were not critical and that he would recover although it would not be stated definitely how soon he could essay the journey back to this city, more than 400 miles away.

Officials here refused to state definitely today whether or not martial law had been or would be declared in the state of Minas Geraes which is extremely important in Brazil from a political standpoint.

Dr. Mello Vianna who is leader of the conservative party in Minas Geraes, had gone there to make round of political speeches. As he began a speech in Montes Claros, one of the strongholds of the opposition party, someone fired at him from a nearby house. A riot followed. It was reported the woman was among those wounded.

Chillicothe Suffer Cuts In

Dr. Howard Jones treated the injured.

HOUSE CERTAIN TO PASS BILL FOR TRANSFER

Change of Liquor Enforcement
From Treasury To Justice
Seem: Sure.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—The first proposal of the Wickersham law enforcement commission for reorganization of federal prohibition enforcement machinery was slated for overwhelming approval in the house today with passage of the Williamson bill transferring the prohibition bureau from the treasury to the justice department.

Meanwhile the second plan of the crime commission, creating commissioners courts to deal with petty violations, was being revised by house dyes. The third major proposal, creating a unified border controle, was still being considered by the treasury.

LEADERS CONFIDENT

Administration leaders were confident the transfer bill would be approved by Senate as well as by house but other measures faced an uncertain future in the present session.

Despite dissension in the house over the extent to which the treasury should be stripped of power over industrial alcohol, leaders predicted passage of the bill as endorsed by the administration.

Under its terms all dry agents would be placed under the Attorney-General, who also would be given joint authority to write the treasury's industrial alcohol regulations, and power to veto a permit because of violations.

Rep. Christopherson (R) of South Dakota, chairman of the Judiciary sub-committee handling the crime commission's "Jurymen Trial" bill, announced that other members of the committee will back him in proposed amendments to the Jones "Five and Ten Laws" passed last year by congress. Deah Roscoe Pound of the law enforcement commission approved the move.

The new bill, Christopherson said, will provide a maximum fine of $500 and six months imprisonment for "casual or petty" violations which includes possession, and those who do not habitually sell liquor.

He asserted the Jones law, which provided a maximum fine of $10,000 and five years imprisonment, for any prohibition violation, was enacted in Congress without consideration.

Congressional wets were preparing for the drive to be inaugurated before the House judiciary committee on Feb. 12 for modification or repeal of the Volstead act, a national referendum on prohibition and legalizing 2.75 per cent beer.

They were encouraged by the demonstration given in the House for Rep. James M. Beck (R) of Pennsylvania, former solicitor-general, who emerged as a wet leader.

Wets were considering a concerted movement to force a statement from the law enforcement commission on the possibility of complete, effective prohibition enforcement.

MOTHER, TOTS ARE BURNED

Father Returning From Work
In Lumber Camp Finds
Remains of Family.

CADILLAC, Mich., Feb. 8.—The charred bodies of a mother and early today in the fire swept her two small children were found in ruins of their home in Neauwaka near here. Neighbors who sighted the blaze were forced to stand by helpless while the mother and her two children, a boy aged two and a girl, three months old, were burned to death. The intense heat caused by the tinder like structure of the building prevented rescuers from entering the home.

The father Clarence Cummings was at work in a lumber camp at the time of the fire. Returning home he found his home in ashes and the bodies of his wife and children entangled about one another. It is believed the fire started in the kitchen.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN AND PRAYER

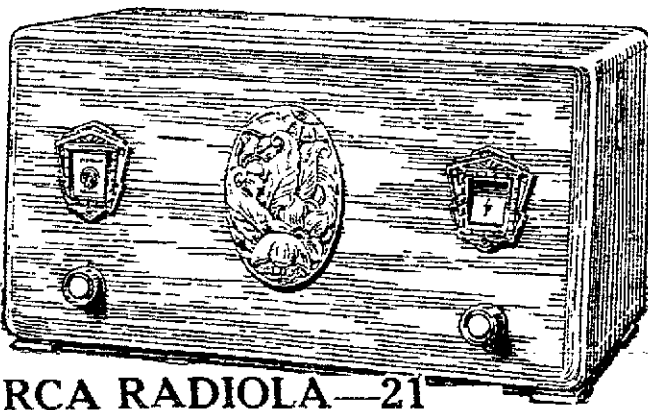

The secret of Abraham Lincoln's influence and power, the moulding factor in his personal life and character was in his vital and unbroken fellowship with the Eternal from whom he drew strength, wisdom and power to meet every emergency and need. Upon one occasion Lincoln said, "I am conscious every moment that all I am and all I have is subject to a Higher Power, and that Power can use me or not use me, in any manner or at any time, as in His wisdom and might may be pleasing to Him. I have been driven many times to my knees by the overwhelming conviction that I had nowhere else to turn."

Lincoln was a peculiarly lonely man and found it necessary to form a contact with the Almighty to meet the daily problems as well as the emergencies constantly arising.

tions of pioneering. He walked five miles to a school which offered the most rudimentary education. At nine years of age, his mother died and he helped his father fashion her rude coffin. At 21 Lincoln possessed only six books—The Bible, Pilgrim's Progress, Aesop's Fables, The Arabian Nights, A Life of Washington and the Statutes of Indiana. Supplementing the knowledge obtained in this manner, he had learned a number of Henry Clay's speeches published in the Louisville and Vincennes newspapers.

After leaving home, Lincoln's experiences were varied. He made two voyages to New Orleans; served as captain in the Black Hawk war; clerked in a store; acted as village postmaster and finally did some surveying before he took up the practice of law. His moral, mental and social gifts made him a leader and it was natural that he should step from the position of a lawyer of recognized ability and force to the presidency of the United States.

Creamed Comments on the Sunday School Lesson, Warnings and Promises, Matthew 7:12-27 for Sunday, Feb. 9.

This lesson gives the climax of the Sermon on the Mount in practical precepts with a grand conclusion.

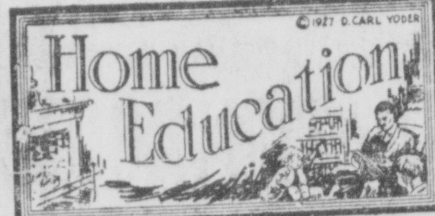

V. 12—"All things therefore whatsoever ye that men should do unto you even so, do ye unto them; for this is the law and the prophets." This golden rule teaches that all are kin and that we will freely grant unto others the same justice and generosity, sympathy and service that we claim for ourselves.

V. 15—"Beware of false prophets, who come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly are ravening wolves." A wolf may appear in sheep's clothing, but he is still a wolf. A false prophet is a teacher of incorrect doctrine.

V. 16—"By their fruits ye shall know them. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?" Sticking apples on thornbushes does not change the bush. Every good deed is the outgrowth of a good thought, and every bad deed when pulled reveals rottenness in its root at the heart.

V. 17—"Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but the corrupt tree bringeth forth evil, principle method, institution, corrupt fruit." Every man, teach-system, religion is to be judged by its final fruit. Christianity is the true religion because of the better civilization it makes.

V. 21—"Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my father who is in heaven." Not profession, not calling on the name of the Lord as an empty form, but doing the will of the Lord, is the essence of true religion. Not outward service, nor numberless prayers, but obedience, is required of us if we will be-

V. 22—"Many will say unto me in that day, Lord, Lord, did we not prophesy by thy name, and by thy name cast out demons, and by thy name do many mighty works?" Argument never attains much in the Christian life for God knows the facts; in the judgment day our record as made on earth without a comment will decide destiny.

V. 23—"And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you; depart from me, ye that work iniquity." To know Christ here and now so well as to please him in heart and conduct is the basis for His knowing us at the last day. One may have a great reputation for piety among men and yet be a worker of iniquity.

Vs. 24, 25—"Every one therefore that heareth these words of mine, and doeth them, shall be likened unto a wise man, who built his house upon the rock; and the rain descended and the floods came and the winds blew and beat upon that house; and it fell not; for it was founded upon a rock."

Hearing is not enough; church going is a duty and a privilege but only church going will not save a soul neither will only Bible reading; it is faith in Christ who is the rock of our salvation that is essential and the faith must be a living, saving faith that makes the life of Christ real in human living.

Vs. 26, 27—"And every one that heareth these words of mine and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, who built his house upon the sand; and the rain descended and the floods came and the winds blew and smote upon that house and it fell and great was the fall thereof." The point of emphasis is on the great fall. The greatest disappointment is a fallen man or woman.

Tall Center Proves The Undoing Of Tigers

WESTERVILLE AGAIN PROVES TOO STRONG BY WALLOPING LOCALS TO TUNE OF 32 TO 21

Tall centers, especially of the type this boy Scott proves to be, simply the downfall of the high school basketball team. A scored only one field goal against the Tigers at Westerville the first meeting of the year between the two teams, but those who saw him at Westerville that night would not have recognized him as the same one who played such a great game on Tiger court Friday evening. Well, to get right down to it, Scott was the largest fact in Westerville high school's and victory over the Tigers. The score was 32-21, and although the Tigers crawled within four points of the Westerville boys in the third quarter, they could not maintain their pace and went down to the depths of defeat, the third they have suffered, consecutively, on their home court.

TIGERS LEAD

The game started like it might be a real contest when Jaggy Davis, after several exchanges of the ball, made an overhead shot from about the foul line which gave the Tigers a lead. Scott started his scoring activities when he counted a foul. White gave the Tigers a 3-1 lead, when he was pushed, but Scott tied the count with a push shot from the foul zone. The first period ended with the score 3 to 3.

The second session really proved the undoing of the Tigers. Cheek took a pass to score a goal, and when he was fouled by Davis scored one of the two free throws. Nickerson dumped a foul shot, and Scott pegged a charity toss. Nickerson counted a foul and so did Russell before Scott again scored on a pivot and shot. Cheek scored two goals in rapid succession and on the second was again fouled. He scored one of his free throws and the score at the end of the half was 14-6.

SOCIETY

CLUB PARTY INCLUDES MEMBERS' HUSBANDS

A conspicuous event in the society affairs of the week was the dinner party Thursday night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Goodchild on Watt-st. The guests were members of Mrs. Goodchild's afternoon card club and their husbands. The club members were St. Valentine talleys and favors provided the keynote in the decorations on the tables and throughout the rooms.

The game for the evening was 500, and excelling in this for the prizes were Mrs. Edwin Bach and Mrs. Roy Groce, Mr. Gene Porter and Mr. Virgil Brown.

COLUMBUS GUEST IS PRIZE WINNER

Mrs. Henry Lanman, Mrs. David C. Hornbeck, and Mrs. Ed Robinson of Columbus and Mrs. Effie Fisher of Wilmington were guests from out of town Thursday when Mrs. James I. Smith and Mrs. Thomas W. Brown entertained. The affair was a luncheon bridge at the home of Mrs. Smith, and was the second of a series of similar parties.

The top score at bridge was won by Mrs. Robinson, of Columbus and the low prize was claimed by Mrs. Link Mader.

WILL LIVE IN ORIENT

The Rev. Franklin McElfresh of the Methodist Episcopal church pronounced the wedding vows which united in marriage Mr. Kenneth Kinsley of Columbus and Miss Mabel Watts of Orient, O. The service took place in the parsonage on N. Pickaway-st Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

FIELD GOAL BY HURLEY IN OVERTIME PERIOD BRINGS VICTORY TO WILLIAMSPORT

Termed by many as the greatest basketball game ever played in the Pickaway-co court league, the Williamsport high school boys defeated Corch Kauber's Ashville lads at Ashville. The score was 24-22 and a hotly contested overtime period was needed to decide the winner.

The field goal that won the game was made by Hurley, steady, easy-going Williamsport guard, who is always at his best in a pinch. The shot was just an ordinary one but what it meant to those Williamsport boys was indefinable.

ASHVILLE AHEAD

Ashville had led through the greater part of the game and in the first period had stepped out to a 6-3 lead. The second period was even more terrible for Williamsport when Ashville stepped to take an advantage of 18 to 6. Many who saw the game said the Williamsport guards just couldn't check the Ashville forwards who stepped in, out and around to get sucker shot after sucker shot that looked like victory in an easy manner.

But in one of the greatest second half rallies ever staged by a high school team, the Williamsport boys came to themselves and when the heat of the battle had subsided were the victors.

Their sterling defense which had proven almost nil in the first half held Ashville without a field goal during the last half of the fray. The third period ended 20-15 in favor of Ashville and while Williamsport was getting seven points in the last period the Ashville boys scored by two and the game ended 22-21. Then Hurley came through with his field shot and the game was won for Williamsport.

BOWERS HIGH

Bowers was the star of the Ashville team with nine points. Anderson scored eight for Williamsport.

The Ashville girls walloped the Williamsport girls in the lid, after by a 34-11 score.

Jackson-twp girls and boys split Saltcreek in two games played at Jackson. The girls lost 15-5 and the boys scraped out a 15-10 victory.

In two more great basketball games played at New Holland, the Scioto team won two fast victories after battles in each. The Scioto girls won their game, 20-17 and the boys with Hartnraft in the leading role scored a victory over New Holland, 21-20. Hartnraft's goal at the end of the game was the winning shot.

MISS ELDRIDGE SCORES FREE THROW TO WIN FAST CONTEST FROM WESTERVILLE, 21 TO 20

Like a young Lochinvar coming out of the west, Eloise Eldridge rushed from the bench into the basketball game at the high school Friday evening and with only a minute to play tossed the foul goal which gave her team a 21-20 victory over Westerville in a fast tussle that was anybody's ball game until this winning foul was counted.

Eldridge had been playing a great game of basketball but had been removed from the fray at the beginning of the final period. With the score tied at 20-all a foul was committed and the girl who was to prove the heroess or heroine, or anything, it doesn't matter, stepped to the charity toss line and nonchalantly dropped the leather through the hoop for the single point that won the game.

WESTERVILLE AHEAD

Things for a great part of the contest weren't so rosy for Westerville started out in the lead and all through the first half held their lead. Westerville scored three field goals before the Tigerettes really knew the contest had started. Miss Freeman who scored more points than any girl in the game, counted all three goals, one of them a pretty one hand shot from the side on the first tipoff. Eldridge broke loose to count two field goals and at the end of the first quarter the local girls trailed, 8-4.

The second quarter was just about like the first with the exception that it was much harder fought. Jean Fitzpatrick, who had been adorning the sidelines for some reason unknown to many persons, entered the game just before the half ended. The first half score was Westerville 12, Circleville 8.

RETURN STRONG

Evidently something happened between halves for the Tigers came out fighting and before much time had elapsed took the lead from Westerville and held an edge of 17-14 for a short time.

That lead was shortlived, however, when Miss Freeman again broke loose to score points that cut the lead.

Cheek scored two goals in rapid succession and on the second was again fouled. He scored one of his free throws and the score at the end of the half was 14-6.

CIRCLEVILLE RALLIES
The third session was quite a different story when the Tigers began to play real ball. Scott started the scoring with a goal which was cancelled when White dribbled from the side. Davis scored a goal and a foul before Bale dribbled into the net. Russell scored two foul shots and Schick scored his only point of the game on a free throw. Davis' two fouls made the Tiger total of 15 at the end of the period while Westerville had 19.

But the fourth period was too bad. On the first play Russell scored his fourth personal foul and left the game. Zeimer replaced him. On the first tipoff Scott dribbled and scored from the side. He missed two free throws and again scored a bucket. White scored a foul and Zeimer scored two free throws. Weston counted two buckets for the winners on follow shots and Scott counted two charity tosses. Clark had been removed from the game on fouls. Davis finished the scoring with a bucket and a foul as the game ended.

CLARK PLAYS WELL
Scott was high point man for the fray with five goals and four foul shots for a 14 total. Davis was the larger part of the Tiger scoring with three field goals and four goals for 10 points.

Eddie Clark, Tiger guard, held Schick, Westerville star scorer, to one point.

FIELD GOAL BY HURLEY IN OVERTIME PERIOD BRINGS VICTORY TO WILLIAMSPORT

Termed by many as the greatest basketball game ever played in the Pickaway-co court league, the Williamsport high school boys defeated Coach Kauber's Ashville lads at Ashville. The score was 24-22 and a hotly contested overtime period was needed to decide the winner.

The field goal that won the game was made by Hurley, steady, easy-going Williamsport guard, who is always at his best in a pinch. The shot was just an ordinary one but what it meant to those Williamsport boys was indefinable.

ASHVILLE AHEAD
Ashville had led through the greater part of the game and in the first period had stepped out to a 6-3 lead. The second period was even more terrible for Williamsport when Ashville stepped to take an advantage of 18 to 6. Many who saw the game said the Williamsport guards just couldn't check the Ashville forwards who stepped in, out and around to get the sucker shot after sucker shot that looked like victory in an easy manner.

But in one of the greatest second half rallies ever staged by a high school team, the Williamsport boys came to themselves and when the heat of the battle had subsided were the victors.

Their sterling defense which had proven almost nil in the first half held Ashville without a field goal during the last half of the fray. The third period ended 20-15 in favor of Ashville and while Williamsport was getting seven points in the last period the Ashville boys scored by two and the game ended 22-24. Then Hurley came through with his field shot and the game was won for Williamsport.

BOWERS HIGH
Bowers was the star of the Ashville team with nine points. Anderson scored eight for Williamsport.

The Ashville girls walloped the Williamsport girls in the lid litter by a 34-11 score.

Jackson-twp girls and boys split Saltcreek in two games played at Jackson. The girls lost 15-5 and the boys scraped out a 15-10 victory.

In two more great basketball games played at New Holland, the Scioto team won two fast victories after battles in each. The Scioto girls won their game, 20-17 and the boys with Hartnuff in the leading role scored a victory over New Holland, 21-20.

Hartnuff's goal at the end of the game was the winning shot.

MONROE-MUHLENBERG
Sensational basketball continued to hold sway in the games played at Monroe between Muhlenberg and Monroe.

Monroe defeated Muhlenberg in both contests, each by a one point margin. The girls won 16-15 and the boys edged out a 26-25 margin.

McCarthy and Hudson did most of the scoring for Monroe girls while O'Hara starred for the Monroe boys.

PICKAWAY-WALNUT
Pickaway and Walnut girls played one of the fastest games of the season with Walnut winning the contest, 23-21. Pickaway held a lead through the entire first half, holding a 7-3 margin at the first quarter and 13-all at the half. The third quarter saw the lead change and Walnut took a 19-17 edge which they held. The game ended with each team scoring four points in the last period.

Pickaway and Walnut boys game was just as interesting as was the girls' contest, the Walnut boys winning, 19-17. The game required an overtime period and in that session Dunkle scored a field shot to win for his team.

Perry-twp boys ran rough shod over Darby to win their game, 42-10. The Darby girls, however, turned the tables on the Perry girls by a 16-8 score.

MISS ELDRIDGE SCORES FREE THROW TO WIN FAST CONTEST FROM WESTERVILLE, 21 TO 20

Like a young Lochinvar coming out of the west, Eloise Eldridge rushed from the bench into the basketball game at the high school Friday evening and with only a minute to play tossed the foul goal which gave her team a 21-20 victory over Westerville in a fast tussle that was anybody's ball game until this winning foul was counted.

Eldridge had been playing a great game of basketball but had been removed from the fray at the beginning of the final period. With the score tied at 20-all a foul was committed and the girl who was to prove the heroine or heroine, or anything, it doesn't matter, stepped to the charity toss line and nonchalantly dropped the leather through the hoop for the single point that won the game.

WESTERVILLE AHEAD
Things for a great part of the contest weren't so rosy for Westerville started out in the lead and all through the first half held their lead. Westerville scored three field goals before the Tigerettes really knew the contest had started. Miss Freeman who scored more points than any girl in the game, counted all three goals, one of them a pretty one hand shot from the side on the first tipoff. Eldridge broke loose to count two field goals and at the end of the first quarter the local girls trailed, 8-4.

The second quarter was just about like the first with the exception that it was much harder fought. Jean Fitzpatrick, who had been adorning the sidelines for some reason unknown to many persons, entered the game just before the half ended. The first half score was Westerville 12, Circleville 8.

RETURN STRONG
Evidently something happened between halves for the Tigers came out fighting and before much time had elapsed took the lead from Westerville and held an edge of 17-14 for a short time.

That lead was shortlived, however, when Miss Freeman again broke loose to score points that cut the lead.

With only a scant minute remaining to play, Eldridge again came back into the game—and, you know the rest so why enter into that again.

Miss Freeman gave a sweet exhibition of basket shooting and accounted for nine field goals, all but two of her team's points. Eldridge counted most of the Circleville points when she garnered seven buckets and two free throws. Fitzpatrick scored a basket and three fouls while she was in the game.

SECOND VICTORY
The victory was the second for Circleville over Westerville, the first victory coming at Westerville a month ago.

ONE BRITISH VIEW

In view of the fact that the British public has been reported in this country as completely indifferent to the present naval reduction conference in London, it is interesting to read the opinion of a newly-arrived Englishman on our shores. H. H. Tomlinson, author of "All Our Yesterdays," a book which does not glorify war, had barely left his ship before he was questioned about the situation. "The British public," he said, "is just as interested in the disarmament conference as it is in the recovery of its trade. But it is not interested in the discussion of naval experts. It does not know and does not care to hear about the relative importance of this kind of warship or that. It wants something done and expects it to be done, but it has ceased to expect experts to effect the impossible on the instant."

"The people in England of liberal views are deeply grateful for the accident which brought about the coincidence of your President and Mr. Ramsay MacDonald."

"Whatever happens at this naval conference, which is taken very seriously at home, we know quite well it is only the beginning of a new tide in consciousness of mankind in general."

That tide, he feels, is setting toward a world safe from national megalomaniacs and gunpowder. Public opinion in favor of more peace and less armament is slowly gaining in strength in many lands and will some day become a great force which statesmen can not resist.

MORE SALESPWERS

From all indications, it is going to be a year of high-powered salesmanship.

Economists all point out that America has solved the problem of mass production, until potential production is far ahead of consumption. If the factories are all to run full blast, people will have to buy more. And since people as a rule seem to be buying about as much as they feel like buying, it's a question of persuading them.

Our weak member now in the economic trinity is distribution. The salesmen must distribute the enormous output our industries are able to produce. If they can, there will be work and pay for everybody, and more goods than ever for everybody to enjoy.

So we consumers, who make the biggest economic group, may have to brace ourselves against the onslaught. Though immensely numerous, in fact comprising everybody we are unorganized and rather defenseless against a highly trained, militant minority armed with the latest psychology of salesmanship.

We needn't brace ourselves too strongly, however. That would spoil everything. A Missourian but friendly attitude is enough. Salesmen must live and salesmen must sell in order that all the rest of us may live.

ANOTHER POSSIBLE OUTRAGE

"MASTER of MONEY" BY ROY VICKERS

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

ALAN BRENNAWAY returns to New York after an absence of seven years in Mexico, where he made a fortune. Going to the dingy hotel he started from, his thoughts flash to Shirley Dane, society girl whom he loves. He visits Shirley and finds her more sympathetic and understanding than before. She tells him her father left her $200,000, which is in the hands of Roger Kelton. Later, Alan accompanies Shirley and her aunt, Mrs. Sibley, to a party. He meets a Mr. Cynax, financier. Alan expresses his distrust of Cynax. There is "talk" about Roger Kelton, and when he does not arrive, Mrs. Sibley is concerned for Shirley's sake. Alan wonders why it should distress Shirley.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER V.

"LL tell you what I did today, if you really want to hear."

"I began with riding—that's an absolute necessity. Then I had breakfast, changed, went to a gym, changed and had a fencing lesson. Changed back again and went to my dressmaker, who is evolving my dress for the Middle Ages ball. She's a bit of a genius as a fancy dress. So am I. Then I hurried back here to change again and we lunched with Bishop Farley."

"Then I came back here and had the fun of seeing you. Then tonight there were the Westburys—and you can see I'm not a bit done up. Do you think I could do all that on cocktails and cigarettes?" "Good Lord!" exclaimed Alan. "You work as hard at this game of going round and meeting people—and being met—as if you had to get another fifteen thousand a year out of it."

"I may have to, one day," she said, half to herself. He ignored that. She was sitting in an armchair opposite him, her head against dark velvet, and once again there flashed up that memory of her face outlined against a background of darkness. He knew the memory was stampeding him—let himself be stampeded.

"Shirley . . ." he said hoarsely. She looked up, still half-held by some long thought.

"What is it, Alan?"

"I think you know what it is, Shirley."

"I didn't!" she cried. "I've always loved you in a way—but not the marrying way. Oh, Alan, I'm so dreadfully sorry."

He sat rigid for a moment; then took a cigarette. He discovered that it could be quite a complicated process to get a cigarette from the box to his lips. It was a minute or more before he spoke.

"I'm a persistent kind of devil. I shall treat your refusal with the utmost reverence, but at the same time I shall wait for the moment when I can try again—and again."

Phosphorescent Light

In damp woods and dark marshes a phosphorescent substance forms, commonly known as foxfire. When a dry spell occurs, accompanied by wind, oftentimes a mass of this formation rises and is carried gently along in the form of a cloud. It is luminous, and presents a weird and strange appearance.

Calendar Alteration

In the Eighteenth century the British parliament while working on some changes in the calendar decreed that the day following Wednesday, September 2, 1752, should be registered as Thursday, September 13, 1752. This alteration in the calendar was made and the days stricken out were lost.

One Thing Sure

Ann was very much elated because her mother was having a birthday, which meant ice cream for dessert. Spreading the glad tidings to a neighbor nearby, she said: "Mother has a secret birthday; we can't tell how old she is, but we can tell we are going to have ice cream for dinner."

Not Legal Punishment

The practice of tarring and feathering, as a punishment, is as old as the Crusades. The earliest mention of the punishment occurs in the orders of Richard Coeur de Lion, issued to his navy on starting for the Holy land in 1191. His followers think it probable that this punishment was never regarded as legalized, but was always a type of mob violence.

Theatres

AT THE CLIFTONA

The "Blue Ridge Ramblers," a troop of nine, who through their records and broadcasting are familiar to people throughout the country, are one of the biggest and most unique acts in the country, and probably the largest vaudeville act of this kind that has ever been staged.

This troop is composed of nine real mountaineers, who play the mountain music that has never been written, but which has been handed down from generation to generation from their forefathers—who were pioneers in the mountains.

The act is cleverly arranged, the music both old and modern, is interspersed with native humor that is unique with the type of the Blue Ridge Ramblers.

The old-time fiddlin' orchestra has broadcasted from practically every radio station in the country, and their barn dance programs are big favorites with radio audiences. This act is coming to Circleville for one day only is making a jump from New York City where it has just played 24 weeks on Broadway, to Chicago, Ill., when it opens Feb. 23rd. The Big Double Show is one with Norma Shearer in an all Talking Picture, "Their Own Desire."

AT THE CLIFTONA

Norma Shearer, looking more beautiful and meticulous than ever in a variety of pajamas, polo outfits, backless swimming suits and dance frocks, scores an instantaneous hit in her latest all-talking picture, "Their Own Desire," which opens Sunday at the Cliftona Theatre.

There is undoubtedly something about Miss Shearer which sets her apart from her contemporaries on the screen and accounts for her ever increasing popularity not only with those individuals whose only criterion of art in a film is its boxoffice value but also with critical minds who find in her restrained performances something approaching dignity, sincerity and convincingness—traits sadly lacking in the majority of film impersonations.

Besides having the dynamic Miss Shearer as a drawing card, "Their Own Desire" has three good reasons for being considered one of the screen's best bets in some time, and these three are an unusually appealing young leading man, a corking good plot and a supporting cast that in the opinion of this reviewer couldn't be improved upon.

Robert Montgomery, the leading man, strangely enough, has been seen in only two pictures previous to playing the part of Miss Shearer's lover, namely, "So This Is College" and "Untamed," in which he played opposite Joan Crawford.

AT THE GRAND

And now the gold digger is glorified in song!

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK
by Edison R. White
Shawnee, Ohio

THAT a city booster radiates optimism.
THAT the real booster makes each step a forward, constructive one.
THAT the pessimist feels that the trend of his city is backward.
THAT the booster never feels that way. He is too full of the progressive spirit and knows that where there is a will there is a way; he has found the way and that way is forward.
THAT the people radiating the spirit of optimism and progressiveness are what build towns into cities and keep the wheels of industry moving at a rapid rate.
THAT nearly everyone can combine business with pleasure.
THAT it is both business and pleasure to take an active part in the upbuilding and betterment of the home city.
THAT to follow the leaders in city-building is a good policy.
THAT most cities lead because they have leaders and the people as a whole stand behind their leaders.
SOME CITIES FAIL TO GO AHEAD, NOT BECAUSE THEY DO NOT HAVE GOOD LEADERS, BUT ON ACCOUNT OF THE INDIFFERENCE TO THEIR CITY'S WELFARE BY THE MAJORITY OF THE CITIZENS.

When Robin Sings

The term robin redbreast rides the tongue easily and is pleasing for its alliteration. And what a delightful turn to the name John Burroughs gave by calling him "wake robin." Wake robin, indeed, calling nature in the North from her winter slumbers and bidding us be of good cheer, because spring is just around the corner.—Exchange.

LET'S HAVE "STUDENT CHAPELS"

Almost every Monday we have chapel. Why not let one of the school organizations take charge each week? This way we could have enough amusement and education to gather, and, also, find out more interesting facts about our organizations.

This could be conducted very easily as most of the organizations have important facts which perhaps would be easy to explain to us, both to interest the student body in their affairs and to justify their existences.

We need more pep in chapel programs. Our organizations could furnish this.

A CURE IN COLD CHAPELS

Much comment has been made concerning the chapel programs on Monday. Principal E. I. Gephart must be given due credit for furnishing entertainment and instruction but, nevertheless, he could be assisted by the student body.

There are at least five active organizations in the school who could alternate in furnishing "real entertainment" on Monday. Girl Reserves, how would you like to read a column length article in the Herald "Reserves Revive Chapel Fun in Most Entertaining Spirit of the Chapel Calendar"? Hi-Y, wouldn't a story "Hi-Y Helps Advisor Conduct Assembly" prove interesting? Thespians, surely your talent could stage a one-act play for us. Home economics, show and explain your "ideal home plan and budget" to us. All of the senior boys, and some of the juniors would be personally interested. The E. M. S. gave us the indirect benefits of their trip through the capitol last year, and promise to tell us soon of their recent tour to Columbus. You are next!

Make up your organizations! Motivate the old school spirit and do things in a big way.

KEEP C. H. S. CLEAN SAYS GEPHART AT CHAPEL

"This is your school, and you should keep it clean, and not deface it," said E. I. Gephart, in a chapel announcement, Monday morning.

Song service under the supervision of Helen K. Wittich comprised the remainder of the program.

HANDWRITING REPLACES PENMANSHIP

"Penmanship is no longer needed. Handwriting is now introduced. There are not many children who become artists when they grow up. We want to introduce the application of the writing practice to the child's ordinary writing—writing which they will need the everyday needs. We want to get away from the ovals and push-pull movement, and bring about the more necessary writing," stated Miss Mildred Moffett, field supervisor of handwriting for the Zaner & Blosor Co. of Columbus, Ohio, when interviewed by a reporter.

A. M. L. A. GUESTS OF ROTARY

Members of the Airplane Model League of America including Harold Dresbach, sophomore, Lincoln Mader and Howard Ate, freshmen, George Ammer, Otis Mader, Tom Kirwin, Tom Conrad, James Reichelderfer and Horace Gilmore seventh grade and William Ammer, sixth grade, were guests at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club at the Boggs Hotel Tuesday noon, during which time they demonstrated and explained model planes.

MITCHELL GIVES SCHOOL BEGONIAS

The students and faculty of C. H. S. are the recipients of two dozen potted begonias, given by the Mitchell Greenhouse Company to help beautify the various rooms.

E. M. S. TO RECITE

President Peters assigned the various portions of the Epsilon Ma Sigma's visit to Columbus, for the members to "cover" at the short meeting held Tuesday at 3:35 in Room 12. The entire trip will be told in story form in chapel some time in the near future.

PROGRAM MEETING

The following program was given at the Hi-Y meeting held Tuesday noon in the physics department: Song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning" sung by everyone; invocation, scripture lesson, Charles Plum; song, "Come, Thou Almighty King"; speech, "Frankness in All Matters" Rev. DeCamp; topic, "Defacing Buildings," Ned Dresbach, and "Circle of Friendship," everyone.

GIRLS VISIT COOKING CLASS IN COLUMBUS

Fourteen young girls, whose eagerness to obtain hints on cooking and to observe the new styles for the coming spring, accompanied by their advisor, Miss Gertrude Pigman, ascended the car Wednesday morning to attend the Dispatch Cooking School at the Memorial Hall in Columbus.

One of the members, none other than Dorothy Riegel, discovered that she had left her purse on the table in the domestic science department. She decided to return to C. H. S. for her purse so she got off the car at High-st and started walking in the opposite direction of the merry bunch.

The class reached the city at noon. They separated and decided to meet at the Neil House after getting lunch. At 1:00 o'clock sharp, the eager ones gathered at the Neil House and to their surprise found Dorothy among them. She had made a quick trip in a Chevrolet with Harold Dresbach now why shouldn't he be referred to as a hero?

The girls then journeyed to the Memorial hall where they observed the style show with keen eyes. Many beautiful spring clothes of the latest styles were shown. Following the style show was the food show. Many delicious dishes were prepared.

It was decided to attend a show after dinner, so the class separated again, after deciding to meet at the Neil House at 10:30 o'clock.

The question of which movie to attend was left for the girls to decide themselves. The name, "The Love Parade" made a hit with some while "No, No Nanette" appealed to others. To some, however, both were very attractive so they attended two shows.

In the meantime, however, our star basketball player, Jean Fitzpatrick and unlucky Dorothy had decided to come home on the 8:30 car in order to get enough sleep. To their disappointment or pleasure we don't know which, they were informed at the station that no car would leave south until 9:30 so an hour more was spent in the city.

SENIORS TO PARTY

Feb. 17, was the date definitely decided for the class party by members of the senior class in a meeting Thursday.

The following committees were appointed to serve for the coming party: Entertainment, Hugh Cartwright; chairman; Eloise Hanley and Richard Nickerson.

Eats committee: Helen Yates, chairman; Florence Cellar and Andrew Goeller.

Evelyn Steele, vice president, served as president pro tem.

LET'S HAVE "STUDENT CHAPELS"

Almost every Monday we have chapel. Why not let one of the school organizations take charge each week? This way we could have enough amusement and education to gather, and, also, find out more interesting facts about our organizations.

This could be conducted very easily as most of the organizations have important facts which perhaps would be easy to explain to us, both to interest the student body in their affairs and to justify their existences.

We need more pep in chapel programs. Our organizations could furnish this.

A CURE IN COLD CHAPELS

Much comment has been made concerning the chapel programs on Monday. Principal E. I. Gephart must be given due credit for furnishing entertainment and instruction but, nevertheless, he could be assisted by the student body.

There are at least five active organizations in the school who could alternate in furnishing "real entertainment" on Monday. Girl Reserves, how would you like to read a column length article in the Herald "Reserves Revive Chapel Fun in Most Entertaining Stunt of the Chapel Calendar"?

Hi-Y, wouldn't a story "Hi-Y Helps Advisor Conduct Assembly" prove interesting? These plans, surely your talent could stage a one-act play for us. Home economics, show and explain your "ideal home plan and budget" to us. All of the senior boys, and some of the juniors would be personally interested. The E. M. S. gave us the indirect benefits of their trip through the capitol last year, and promise to tell us soon of their recent tour to Columbus. You are next!

Make up your organizations! Motivate the old school spirit and do things in a big way.

KEEP C. H. S. CLEAN SAYS

GEPHART AT CHAPEL

"This is your school, and you should keep it clean, and not deface it," said E. I. Gephart, in a chapel announcement, Monday morning.

Song service under the supervision of Helen K. Wittich comprised the remainder of the program.

HANDWRITING REPLACES PENMANSHIP

"Penmanship is no longer needed. Handwriting is now introduced. There are not many children who become artists when they grow up. We want to introduce the application of the writing practice to the child's ordinary writing—writing which will meet the everyday needs. We want to get away from the ovals and push-pull movement, and bring about the more necessary writing," stated Miss Mildred Moffett, field supervisor of handwriting for the Zaner & Blosier Co. of Columbus, Ohio, when interviewed by a reporter.

A. M. L. A. GUESTS OF ROTARY

Members of the Airplane Model League of America including Harold Dresbach, sophomore, Lincoln Mader and Howard Ater, freshmen, George Ammer, Otis Mader, Tom Kirwin, Tom Conrad, James Reichelderfer and Horace Gilmore, seventh grade and William Ammer, sixth grade, were guests at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club at the Boggs Hotel, Thursday noon, during which time they demonstrated and explained model planes.

MITCHELL GIVES SCHOOL BEGONIAS

The students and faculty of C. H. S. are the recipients of two dozen potted begonias, given by the Mitchell Greenhouse Company to help beautify the various rooms.

E. M. S. TO RECITE

President Peters assigned the various portions of the Epsilon Mu Sigma's visit to Columbus, for the members to "cover" at the short meeting held Tuesday at 3:35 in Room 12. The entire trip will be told in story form in chapel some time in the near future.

PROGRAM MEETING

The following program was given at the Hi-Y meeting held Tuesday noon in the physics department: Song, "Keep the Home Fires Burning" sung by everyone; invocation, scripture lesson, Charles Plum; song, "Come, Thou Almighty King"; speech, "Frankness in All Matters," Rev. DeCamp; topic, "Defacing Buildings," Ned Dresbach, and "Circle of Friendship," everyone.

GIRLS VISIT COOKING CLASS IN COLUMBUS

Fourteen young girls, whose eagerness to obtain hints on cooking and to observe the new styles for the coming spring, accompanied by their advisor, Miss Gertrude Pigman, ascended the car Wednesday morning to attend the Dispatch Cooking School at the Memorial Hall in Columbus.

One of the members, none other than Dorothy Riegel, discovered that she had left her purse on the table in the domestic science department. She decided to return to C. H. S. for her purse so she got off the car at High-st. and started walking in the opposite direction of the merry bunch.

The class reached the city at noon. They separated and decided to meet at the Neil House after getting lunch. At 1:00 o'clock sharp, the eager ones gathered at the Neil House and to their surprise found Dorothy among them. She had made a quick trip in a Chevrolet with Harold Dresbach now why shouldn't he be referred to as a hero?

The girls then journeyed to the Memorial hall where they observed the style show with keen eyes. Many beautiful spring clothes of the latest styles were shown. Following the style show was the food show. Many delicious dishes were prepared.

It was decided to attend a show after dinner, so the class separated again, after deciding to meet at the Neil House at 10:30 o'clock.

The question of which movie to attend was left for the girls to decide themselves. The name, "The Love Parade" made a hit with some while "No, No Nanette" appealed to others. To some, however, both were very attractive so they attended two shows.

In the meantime, however, our star basketball player, Jean Fitzpatrick and unlucky Dorothy had decided to come home on the 8:30 car in order to get enough sleep. To their disappointment or pleasure we don't know which, they were informed at the station that no car would leave south until 9:30 so an hour more was spent in the city.

At 10:30, a crowd of unlucky 13 met at the Neil House. They departed for Roundtown on the 11:30 car and if you should want to know any more about that trip you may question one of the following persons.

Myriam Hitchcock, Evelyn Steele, Alice Briggs, Dorothy Riegel, Nina Denman, Charlotte Steinhauser, Melba Pearce, Jean Fitzpatrick, Helen Shaw, Betty Gephart, Ethel Hussey, Hilda Thomas and Miss Gertrude Pigman.

SENIORS TO PARTY

Feb. 17, was the date definitely decided for the class party by members of the senior class in a meeting Thursday.

The following committees were appointed to serve for the coming party: Entertainment, Hugh Cartwright, chairman; Eloise Hanley and Richard Nickerson.

Eats committee: Helen Yates, chairman; Florence Cellar and Andrew Goeller.

Evelyn Steele, vice president, served as president pro tem.

DANCE IS SUCCESSFUL

The informal dance Wednesday at the St. Phillips parish house attracted 75 persons who were entertained by Bales orchestra from 8 until 10:30 p. m. After that time the crowd enjoyed the music from a Sterling radio furnished and installed by Thurman Miller for the occasion.
